SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

We wonder how many townspeople noticed the brightly lighted Christmas tree on the ski hill last night. The utility district and chamber of commerce are really to be congratulated for the fine appearance the town makes in bright lights, not only on the tree but in the business places as well. Truckee is the best lighted town of its size in the state. We would like to add that it is also the neatest.

Noticing the Christmas tree, we were struck by the nearness of the Holy Natal Day and wondered if all the shoppers of the area proved themselves smart and thrifty by doing their buying at home and if those who failed to heed Jim Farley's plea for early shopping and mailing will do the remainder of their buying at the stores of their home town merchants.

Of all places to involve in an argument on whether it pays to shop at home is a chamber of commerce meeting, but then we suppose nearly anything is possible in this day and age.

Judge Smith has gone to the trouble of ascertaining what Truckee's annual share of the state liquor license would be if the town was incorporated. He was told it would be $2700. It shouldn't take a mathematician to figure out what we are now getting.

A news dispatch from Nevada City says that Truckee did not contribute anything to the Red Cross because no one here took any interest in the drive. We have failed to find anyone here who was asked to solicit or contribute. The Eagles Lodge has a small reserve fund which we understand will be dispatched to aid the most worthy cause and to assist in banishing the idea that Truckee can not be counted upon to do its share toward charitable endeavors. Such tales should be investigated before they are printed as facts.

PYTHIAN SISTERS IN BUSY MEETING AS FIVE ARE INITIATED

A large number of members of Summit Temple, Pythian Sisters, attended a meeting last Thursday evening at the Odd Fellows hall. Over 30 members of Pyramid Temple came from Sparks to conduct the initiation work for the five candidates. The Sparks members performed the work in a creditable manner which was instructive to the newly organized local temple. Following the meeting a social hour was enjoyed with many interesting talks by the visitors. Refreshments were served in the banquet room where Christmas decorations predominated.

Fourteen guests including members of the school boards, the teachers, Mrs. P. R. Nelson and Mrs. G. E. Hofmann were present at a luncheon given at the high school Wednesday honoring Mrs. Ella Austin, retiring superintendent of schools.

The tables were decorated with tall red candles, the attractive red and blue appointments conveying the Christmas scheme throughout.

SKI TRAIL TO TAHOE MARKED BY LOCAL FOREST OFFICIALS

Mileage signs were posted this week along the Truckee-Tahoe Ski trail by District Ranger H. I. Snider and Assistant Ranger W. F. Fischer. The signs, number one to 13 inclusive, were made in the Galena Service ERA camp and can easily be distinguished in that they are made as a 17 inch triangular board painted orange with letters one-half inches high, reading "10 miles to Tahoe" or '3 miles to Truckee' as the case may be.

The first recent sign, reading 13 miles to Tahoe,' posted at the Truckee terminal is just south of the ski jump and red arrows point from the smaller Truckee-Tahoe ski trail signs where the Truckee-Bald Mountain ski trail leaves so that skiiers will not confuse the two routes.

Considerable damage was done the past season to the smaller signs by unscrupulous hunters using them for targets. Anyone apprehending hunters shooting the signs are asked to report them to the local rangers as a heavy fine is the penalty.

Firemen Vote To Reject All Fetes Here During '39

Misunderstanding Blamed As Plans Temporarily Abandoned

LIONS MAY OFFER AID

Organization Will Seek Way To Unite For Home Coming Week

Either through a misunderstanding or from unfounded adverse reports concerning the attitude of local merchants, the Truckee Volunteer Fire Department at its meeting this week voted down a proposal to sponsor the Home Coming week program here next June or any other celebration during 1939. Leaders of the local organization, however, declared that the action may be rescinded at a future meeting, permitting the department to procede with original plans.

Informed of the decision of the department, members of the Truckee Lions Club, representing many of the businessmen of the community, decided to hold an executive meeting to ascertain what steps can be taken to either promote or lend assistance in sponsoring the celebration. The affair is expected to attract thousands of former Nevada County residents and others here for the week and a gala program is promised.

It was pointed out at the meeting of the Lions that the celebration may be too large to be operated by any single organization and it was proposed to solicit the support of all the various groups in the community to further the plans and make the fete more outstanding. It is generally conceded that the fire department is the logical group to assume the lead, but aid from all other groups will be necessary if the program is to be the success hoped for.

The firemen, according to Chief N. F. Dolley, voted down the proposal after they were informed that the businessmen of the town did want a celebration and that they had nothing but criticism for the fine Fourth of July celebration sponsored this year by the department. Interviews with the businessmen, many of whom attended the meeting of the Lions, proved they not only welcome a celebration but that they will lend support. They branded as false the story they had criticized the recent fete.

OFFICERS NAMED

..Chief Dolley was reelected for the coming year as was Assistant Chief Tony Pace. Others reelected were Erwin Waters and Bob Tonini, captains; Eldon Tonini and Gino Giovannini, lieutenants; Harry Baldwin, sergeant at arms and Orland Sanders, secretary-treasurer.

Bay Shriners Will Spend Day Here To Enjoy Snow Sports

Annual Snow Frolic Planned By Lodgemen For February

Truckee seems to be more willing to get out of the winter sports picture than the balance of the country is to accept the fact.

For instance we have a communication from Islam Temple of the Shrine which is planning its annual Snowball Outing in Truckee and Reno on February 10, 11 and 12. The affair which annually attracts hundreds of members, families and the friends of the Shriners from the San Francisco and Oakland district as well as other cities and towns, will include a full day in Truckee, the announcement said.

The special train or trains will arrive in Truckee Saturday, February 11 at 7 a. m. and following the full day in the snow here, the crowd will leave at 5:30 p. m. for Reno.

The following day, the special is scheduled to arrive in Truckee at 8:15 a. m. and remain here until Sunday afternoon before returning to San Francisco.

The announcement points out that Truckee has ideal snow conditions, with ample equipment for rent and with promises of sleighing and fine scenic skiing trips.

Local Legislators Offer To Present Questions Of Interest To District At Forthcoming Capitol Session

SENATOR JERROLD L. SEAWELL | ASSEMBLYMAN ALLEN THURMAN

State Senator Jerrold L. "Jerry" Seawell of Roseville, in a letter to the editor of the Sierra Sun, this week asked the people of his district to feel free to advise him of the needs of the district, comprising Placer, Nevada and Sierra counties, and to confer on legislation.

Seawell is following a custom of keeping in touch with constituency that he instituted when he first went to the assembly and has continued in his service in the state senate. His letter, addressed to the editor, is directed at the voters of the district. The letter follows:

"Dear Mr. Barrett:

"Following a custom which I instituted when I became a member of the California legislature, I am appealing to you for the use of your valuable paper in calling attention to the people of my district that the Legislature will again convene January 2, 1939.

"It has always been and still is my desire to serve the people of my district to the best of my ability, and can only obtain information regarding the needs and desires of the people of this district by having them advise me what they believe should be done to benefit this particular district.

"With this thought in mind I am inviting suggestions regarding legislative proposals to be introduced next session from any individual, organization, or group of people in any district relating either to immediate district needs or general state welfare. I will also welcome local interest and advice on legislative measures that will confront the Legislature when it convenes, for it is only through this medium that I am able to obtain an expression of opinion from my people on matters pending in the legislature.

"If there are any organizations or groups who desire to meet with me either prior to the Legislature or during the Legislature on matters to be proposed or pending, I would appreciate having these organizations or groups arrange for any meeting they might desire in which they feel my presence will be required or of advantage.

"Thanking you for conveying this message to the people of the 7th Senatorial District, which constitutes the Counties of Placer, Nevada and Sierra, I beg to remain,

Sincerely yours,
Jerrold L. Seawell"

Thurman of this district, is soliciting the support of the various sportsmen's organizations and central committees throughout the Sixth Assembly District in bring to the attention of Governor-elect Culbert Olson the need for representation upon the Fish and Game Commission by this area which is the sportsman's paradise of the state. the new governor will appoint his new commission shortly after the first of the year.

Heretofore, all members of the Fish and Game Commission have been appointed from the larger cities of the state. The art of printing has grown from a case or two of type and a small hand press that worked like a paper presser, into a highly mechanized shop, with expensive mechanized equipment that allows perfect production for any type of work.

Types hav multiplied until it is customary to see a word of the substanial status of "coal", printed in a heavy, solid type that typifies coal, while such articles as ladies' frocks are handled in graceful type, light and generally italic.

Your local printer has invested heavily to give service and modern typogr aphy. He can successfully compete with the quality of printin in the big city shop and he can be depended upon to give a dollar in value for a dollar spent instead of showing attractive "samples" to get an order and then delivering a cheap produce, with cheap stock and standardized type and shoddy workmanship.

As often happens, the local printer suffers when a salesman from one of the mail order houses passes through his town, but in the end he wins, for most buyers are quick to learn that there is satisfaction in dealing with a printer who is known to stand behind his work, who is always on the job when he is needed, and who thought enough of the city to invest the thousands of dollars necessary to supply the best type for printing available. On that next printing order, 'Shop at home!" It will pay real dividends.

Peace in the labor movement is one of the vital necessities of present-day America, not only for labor's sake but in the interest of the country's welfare.—The Nation.

SHOP AT HOME——

The season of holly and misletoe is here!

To youngsters it bears the promise of excitement which Christmas-tide days unfailingly bring.

To their elders, touched a bit with that same Christmas spirit, it carries this broad hint, "Shop early—and buy at home."

That livelier bustle in the community which spells a happier and more prosperous Yuletide comes, first and last, from the dwellers in that community.

There are bountiful stockingsful of gifts in the local stores. Shoppers need little re-telling that a purchase at home during this season makes a double gift. First, to the recipient, and second, to the community.For investment in gifts at the local merchants brings more jobs to more local employees, enables these deserving enterprisers better to weather the coming long, lean months and starts business activity humming at the place where it sounds best and does the most good.

For no longer is there need for shoppers to go far afield in search of Christmas treasure trove when efficiency and variety of mass distribution can double for Kris Kringle in bringing a wealth of items to every community and to every pocketbook.

Real progress is being made these days by the members of the ski club who are rushing preparation of the new ski hill near the Tavern golf coursewhich has been purchased from the Watson estate by the club.Already a clearing has been made 200 feet wide and 1400 feet long which will be groomed into a downhill and slalom course. Close beside this clearing is a second narrower strip which is being prepared for the installation of a ski tow, parts of which have already been purchased, and which will be appreiated by skiing devotees who enjoy coasting down slopes from high places A new 16 by 16 foot warming hut is now under construction nearby, with hopes of its early completion well justified. The hut will house the 85 HP gas motor for the tow.

Of additional interest here this week was the proposed installation of an ice rink near the outlet of the lake at the Tahoe City dam gates. It is proposed to erect a dirt and rock wall between the lake and a level getrip about of 200 square feet which would be flooded and left to freeze. Jess Sisk, who advanced the idea of the rink, and Harry Johanson Monday visited the spot and received the permission of W. A. Simmonds, the gate tender, to carry out the project. Simmonds permission wasnecessary since the rink is situated on government land. Further details will be discussed at the club's Friday nght meeting.

Carl L. Auer of Los Angeles was a Tahoe visitor last Sunday, viewing with interest the energetic work being done by the club and complimenting them on their selection of a site for the new grounds. He claimed to have received encouraging reaction from Southern California officials who approved the plans.

All colleges of the Pacific seaboard-Rockie Moutain area have been invited to participate in the two day affair which will take in racing, ski jumping and other winter sports both competitive and non-competitive.

TAHOE CITY, Dec. 15— Plans for Tahoe City's new jail were posted on the library wall Monday for the inspection of the townsfolk. Constable Harry Johanson was the draftsman. The plans call for two large cells, each with two cots; an entrance hall, with oil heating and all modren equipment and conveniences. The building will be built near the foot of the hill by the old Mercantile Road, part of the bank to be cut away to make room for the concrete structure. No actual construction will be started before spring as money will not be available from the supervisors before that time and their approval of the plans must first be secured.

The Bean Pot, operated during the past summer by Mrs. Irene Bell, will be opened next spring by Mrs. Charles Myer, who, with her husband, spent the weekend at Tahoe, according to an annoucnement.

E. J. Sweetland of Piedmont, whose beautiful summer home was built several years ago by Norman Mayfield atop a hill near Fleischacker's, is the latest donor to the building fund of Tahoe's Community center, the donation arriving Monday.

UTILITY ELECTION AT TAHOE IS CARRIED BY MAJORITY OF 45 TO 7

TAOHE CITY, Dec. 15— The special election held in Tahoe's community hall on Monday and manned by an all male election board of Carl Bechdolt, Sr., Clarence Vernon, George R. Bliss and Phil Gallinger, proved conclusively the desire of Tahoe City's residents for an improved and adequate water system which will, in the near future, replace the one now in use. The vote was 45 for the proposition and 7 against it. Approximately 60 persons were eligible to vote on the proposed utility district formation Many of the voters returned from their winter homes to exercise their franchise.

Clarence Vernon, chairman of the citizens formation committee, declares that for the present activities will consist of outlining a future plan for procedure with a view to organizing for action early in the spring when the majority of the town's residents will have returned.

A card from Milano, Italy, informs us this week that Adolph Marchetti, head waiter at Prusso's during the summer, is enjoying his tour of famous spots of the world, which he is making at leisure.

Tahoe . . . . Ramblings . . .

(By SWANEE)

Mrs. George Bliss, chairman of the Tahoe Chapter of the American Red Cross, reported here this week that despite the drop in the community's population, 37 members have signed to date. Although officially closed, any money received after this date will be gratefully accepted for the worthy cause.

Otto Darlin, Tahoe Pine electrical contractor, celebrated his birthday on Thursday, the family motoring to Reno for dinner and the theater.

Tahoe's level continues to drop, much to the relief of those property owners whose homes border on the lake, the official gauge standing at 6227.07 on Monday with 367 CSF of water leaving the gates.

Jack and Kathleen Starratt Anderson of the University of Nevada, motored home to Tahoe on Friday last to aid hteir mother, Mrs. A. M. Anderson celebrate her birthday, bringing a load of gifts and a birthday cake. On Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson observed their wedding anniversary.

Latest donors of books to the local library are Harry Henrikson of Lake Forest, Mrs. Bob Wallace of Tahoe and Lester Roth of San Francisco. The latter has his summer home near the lake in the Lake Forest district. Mrs. Anderson, librarian, donated a second year's subscription to the children of Tahoe this week in the form of the new youth's book, Jack and Jill.

A vote of sincere thanks is being tendered Jack Malcolm here this week for his donation of several days labor in installing 100 feet of additional shelf space for the library. The county, it is anticipated will assume the bill for the material. It is believed enough books are already on hand to fill the new shelves, which were personally varnished by Librarian Anderson on Sunday.

Mrs. James Ferguson received a badly crushed hand on Sunday when a window fell on the fingers.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Hevel of the Bettencourt Tract, who left Tahoe some weeks ago, returned over the week end to their home for a few days to visit and cast their ballots at the special election Monday. They are now residing at Bowman near Auburn where they have taken a cottage for the winter.

POLITICAL PARADE

(by CLEM WHITAKER

California Democrats, who haven't known a Santa Claus for more than four decades—at least so far as State patronage is concerned—can all sing "Happy \Days Are Here Again" as their Christmas carol this Yuletide season.

Santa's visit may be a little belated for most of the gift recipients, as Governor Olson doesn't take office until he start of the New Year; but already the plums are dropping—— and some of the boys are smiling broadly.

The toys—those granted as well as those withheld for further consideration by the new Governor—are most enticing.

Consider the post of the new Director of the State Department of Public Works, a $10,000 per year berth with plenty of power and perquisites of office! And our new Director of the State Department of Finance also receives a $10,000 plum which in man ways, is the most influential and coveted position in the whole setup.

There's the Director of Natural Resources; the Director of Public Health; the State Superintendent of Banks; the State Insurance Commissioner; the Building and Loan Commissioner; the Director of the Department of Military and Veterans Affairs; the members of the State Harbor Commission; the private and executive secretaryships in the Governor's office—all these and many more cabinet and major posts will be dangling from the Christmas tree.

In addition, more than 500 "exempt" positions in various State agencies—ranging from secretarial jobs to chief deputyships, all exempt from civil service — are going to the Olson followers. And for those who want honor more than state salaries, there are hundreds of other places as members of various commissions which pay only a per diem and expenses in coin of tne realm, but which offer an oprrotunity for interesting public service to those woh can afford it.

But for Republicans in the Statehouse, it will be a gloomy Christmas. Teh Capitol dome, these days, still glows with its battery og incandescents; the trees in Capitol Park are festive and the gardeners work overtime to make the scene more decorative—but a new lord is coming to the manor—and a new retinue will follow him. The GOP'ers can only hope for 1940—and a Republican comeback that will echo 'round the nation.

Vandenberg For President Predicted By L. A. Editor; Dewey or Taft For V. Pres.

by GREELY KOLTS

With several outstanding favorite sons to select from, United States Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan however stands out as the big choice of the Republican Party for Presidential honors in 1940.

Senator Vandenberg possesses all the elements essential for a victorious candidate. For years he has been regarded as the ranking Republican of the United States Senate, interestingand convincing speaker, of sound, strong and charming personality, with a keen grasp of national problems, and in full accord with the ideals of the Republican Party, there is little doubt but that with his logical and conservative viewpoint that he would prove a formiable candidate and in these days of governmental dissapation would be favorably received by the American people.

As a running mate, young District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, who recently gave the Democrats of New York a permanent scare in his spectacular race for Governor, or the young and brilliant Robert A. Taft, son of former President Taft, United States Senator-elect of Ohio, would lend a balance to the G. O. P. national ticket that would be certain to create enthusiasm throughout the entire country.

These diplomats are keeping President Roosevelt informed about the foreign situation, notably in Europe. They were photographed on leaving the White House. Left to right: William C. Bullitt, ambassador to France; Acting Secy. of State Sumner Welles; Hugh Wilson, ambassador to Germany, and William Phillips, ambassador to Italy.

Employes Under 18 Must File Applications To Retain Their Positions

All employes of youths under 18 years of age are required to secure work permits in compliance with the provisions of the wage-hour law and state legislation.

The state law makes it mandatory that the employer see that his employes under 18 secure the permit, placing the responsibility on him. These permits are to be checked by federal authorities with penalties for non-presentation after a reasonable period of time. Medical examinations of the minor employes are not necessary except for those taking part time school work.

Such permits witll be available locally from C. E. Hofmann, principal of the high school.

The Letter Box

Patrol Chief Thanks Editor

Dear Mr. Barrett:

My letters to the press during the last three years have been, in the main, requests for cooperation in various campaigns for the promotion of safety on the highways. Now, with the date of my retirement as Director of Motor Vehicles close at hand, it is my pleasure to express my appreciation for your close cooperation.

I feel secure in the belief that lives have been saved by our constant safety crusades and I am sincere in my statement that you should share the credit.

I have inferred that this letter, unlike the others, would not be a request but I do have one request to make. I ask for my successor, as yet unnamed, the same fine spirit of cooperation you have extended me and to the Department during my administration.

George Rochester of Los Angeles, the Deputy Director, joins me in this experession of appreciation.

Sincerely,
RAY INGELS

A. P. GIANNINI

A call for the practise of tolerance in this country as never before is sounded by A. P. Giannini, founder of Bank of America, in a Christmas greeting to thousands of employees of the institution, published on last Monday in The Bankamerican, monthly employee publication.

Americans can do a big job for world stability without getting themselves entangled in the affairs of foreign countries, he asserts.

"It can be done through example," declares the California financier. "We can pjrove that every race and every creed has something important to contribute to our economy, to our culture, and to our spiritual progress.'
